SAINT ALPHONSUS LIGUORI

“I am Saint Alphonsus Liguori. This Gift of Divine Love has given to the whole world of human life a reason for human life, and a Goal for human life.

It is sad when so few listen to the importance of human life, and that it has a Purpose Beyond and Above what any human being can reach. The Goal for human life is Greater than all the worth on the earth. Worthy things, to human beings, usually have a price tag, monetary, or sometimes physical. The Greatest Goal in life does not have a physical price tag. The Importance of It is beyond what a human being, a human mind, can fully comprehend.

Children are not being instructed on the Importance of the Goal for human life. Everything is humanistic, materialistic, thus ignoring the importance of human life, and that it has a Definite Purpose for its very existence.

It is sad to hear so-called ‘theologians’ speak only in a humanistic manner, using all points of interest, purpose, and goal, either monetary or socially, the point of importance.

Though it is not understood at this time, that this Miracle of The Father’s Love is the Greatest Gift a human being can receive, It must begin to spread to all corners of the world, in all languages, because of the diabolical interference that is in every area of human life.

It is difficult for the little one to talk about the evil that exists. That is why We so oftentimes use it in a softer manner, because evil is beyond what a human being realizes it to be. Evil is governed by the enemy, the enemy of The Creator and all that is morally sound, morally good, morally beneficial, morally advantageous to the Soul.

We hear many discussions on what is right, what is wrong, and it is sad to see that the wrong seems easier for individuals to associate with, and in the way they conduct their behavior, physically, emotionally, spiritually. The mental does not seem to judge properly what should be acceptable over what is unacceptable.

You live in a very difficult immoral time, but it is important to understand one major factor — you have a will, you have the ability to obey the Commandments The Father gave a long time ago. These Commandments should be the Guidelines for daily living, daily example to all others, but in so many ways there is very little thought on the Commandments each day. It would be wise for more instruction to be placed on the Commandments of The Creator. There would be less ugliness in the world, and less catering to the enemy of The Creator and man.

I could speak hours on this subject, but We are instructed to keep What We speak to a degree that each one reading the Words will not find Them too many, and will be able to absorb the Value of the Words, the Direction in the Words, and what is acceptable for one's Soul, or what is detrimental to one's Soul.

As I leave you, I beseech you to begin each day remembering to repeat to yourself the Commandments. It will only take a few minutes, but it will be a constant reminder for the sake of your Soul. So be it.
