

SAINT BENEDICT

“I am Saint Benedict. The world has been blessed by a Gift of Divine Love wherein so Many of Us Saints have been requested to speak openly, verbally, to have Our Words put into script to be remembered for all perpetuity.

Today as I speak, it is important that men, women and children understand they must never ignore the Commandments given to a man in full detail; the man's name was Moses. At the time They were given, They were not in the concise form They are being learned at this time. It is Important that Each Commandment be stressed in the full degree They were meant to be learned, followed.

Children are not being instructed on what life was created for. Men and women are allowing too much so-called 'playtime' in all areas of life to be acceptable, rather than to have a time set aside for each child to better understand the importance of their birth, and the Goal for their birth, at another time. There is very little instruction in homes, in schools; also, there is very little example in these places, and in all other areas in which human beings gather for pleasure of many kinds.

All that has been delivered thus far is not being read, because there are some who feel the Words are not meant for them. The clergy, as you call them, should never be without these Books that have been so generously delivered by so Many Here in the Heavens.

We see much reading going on, but most of it is to appease the personal feelings, the mind, and other things regarding human life that, in many ways, or some ways, ignore what human life was created for, and the words in these books only encourage permissiveness, promiscuity, and a laxness in morality, thus demeaning the Soul in every Portion of It, disregarding the fact that, oftentimes, what is read is followed, even when it is impure in meaning, and detrimental to the Soul in many ways.

We hear some say, 'I have never seen my Soul, how do I know I have It?' The Soul is a Portion within human life that, in many ways, though unseen, is evident through one's conscience, one's abilities, one's actions, one's intentions, and one's sense of logic in what is morally sound, morally pure, morally pleasing to The Creator.

Thousands of words could be written on this subject, but We find so much diabolical intervention in all lives, and the evil one acts promptly when it feels the need to direct an individual or several individuals to something more so-called 'pleasing' to their nature, personality, or their pleasure at a given time.

As I leave you, I bless you with The Father's Love, because as you take My Words down and put Them into print, hopefully They will be the Saving Factor to help Souls one day return to The Creator, Saints.
So be it."
