

SAINT ATHANASIUS

“I am Saint Athanasius.

Children are not being instructed on what is moral, what is immoral. It is important that all ages should understand that there is a reason for human life. It has a Goal.

We hear some say: ‘What makes me think I have a Goal?’ I say to them: ‘Do you not always look at a situation, a condition, or the value of something, innately looking for the goal for which it was instituted, created, or set in a definite value higher than something else, maybe a lot of other things, not just one thing?’

In the creation of human life, The Father, in His Love for this Gift of His Divine Love, gave a Goal to the intellect. The Goal was greater than the early men, women and children fully realized it to be. That is why Christ Himself had to come to the earth and openly Speak, Instruct that within human life there was a Purpose, and that human life was designed to reach for a Goal.

Many understood it to be a material thing, a physical matter, until they were instructed openly, lovingly, that as long as they realized what a Goal meant, they should see it for the Goal within them, because they were innately given the realization, the practicality, the reasonability that human life had a Goal, and it was a Goal Far Greater than what human life offered in earthly measures.

When The Son of The Creator was put upon the earth, He Instructed constantly on the Purpose for which human life was created. A lot of men, women and children felt the In-depth Love, and understood the practicality of this Message, the reasonability of It, the logic.

The world has been blessed many times by The One Who created it, and each era of time was instructed in a lengthier description of the importance of human life.

We hear men, women and children put much emphasis on Bible History. That is good, because Bible History gave a foundation understandable to many things. It is true, the mentality of human life at this time now in which you live, has grown in many directions, supposedly elevated to almost a brilliance on many subjects, giving subjects great attention and more feasibility in being involved in them.

I do not say this is wrong, but I do say one thing: So many human beings of all backgrounds are ignoring why human life was created. Some have become extremely interested in their version, ignoring what was told a long time ago, that Sainthood should be the Goal, thus meaning, returning the Soul to The Creator from Where It came; but it is to be remembered, It was given in a Pure State, and It must be returned in a Pure State.

I hear some say: 'How will I know what a Pure State is? I live an ordinary life.' This statement is logical, but the Commandments of The Creator were given to give the Directions to be followed by all of human life. There is a sadness on part of this one portion of it. What was truly and fully delivered has been for a long time shortened to a point of one word being the important point of understanding the 'full meaning' of the Commandment.

To speak all the hours I could, on this Important Subject, would be difficult to take at this time, but hopefully, What I have spoken will awaken thousands and thousands of minds to the Reality, the Purpose, the Reasoning in each Commandment, because it will give strength to how one talks, how one plans things, how one associates with others like themselves, human beings; also, how much guidance will be given to children of all ages so they will understand that to be born a human being is a Blessing of Divine Love that nothing else is gifted with.

As I leave you, I want to say one thing: If you make it a habit to silently say, when you are parting from someone you have been with, you have talked with, or you even had something very important to deal with, say to yourself, not so it can be heard, 'God Bless you'.
