

REVELATION DELIVERED THROUGH FRANCES M. KLUG
ON NOVEMBER 12, 2003 AT 12:39 P.M.

SAINT CATHERINE OF SIENA

“I am Saint Catherine of Siena.

So many times We Saints hear different discussions using the words regarding responsibilities, tiredness, exhaustion regarding their feelings, not just about materialistic items, but the burden of believing in God, the burden of responsibilities that must be seen regarding their activities, and how they think in many areas of life. The word ‘burden’ is oftentimes amusing, because there is no burden to a prayer, there is no burden to responsibilities that are necessary regarding one’s life morally.

As I speak today, I speak openly. The Words I use are different than ordinary. The human mentality oftentimes allows so much to be thought about, thus tending, pretending, or exaggerating on different responsibilities in life; yet the very same individuals will use their free time to commit many sins morally, physically, using their senses and justifying them completely, no matter what the conditions are causing to their Souls.

The human mentality is a Gift of Divine Love, and it should be used for all that is good for the individual in whom it is placed at the moment of conception, but also, for everything that the individual learns as a child, and learns in the growing years to adulthood.

If I were to show you a picture at this moment, one in which you could see so many things being practiced openly, using immorality, impurities, injustices, and all that is what I would call ‘rancid’ in what it contains.

I know you desire a Saint to speak on pure things, on things you are acquainted with that come natural to you, but so much is overlooked on how many individuals born to the human way of life, think impurely day and night.

A lot of the Commandments do not speak the words in an open manner; so then, to many, it is not a sin. First of all, let Us say 'Thou Shalt Not Commit Adultery'. How many forms, ways, degrees, does this cover in one human being? The number is insurmountable, because there are so many ways to act out an impure act, deed, practice, condition, situation, that basically is worthless to all the other senses of a human being.

Needless to say, I could speak hours on this subject, possibly I will at a later time; but it is time for human beings of all ages to stop thinking only of what pleases them, but to realize that they live in a world wherein their example is important to everyone they meet, they see, they talk to, or they become friends with, or are part of a family with them. Example is the greatest gift, example of how one thinks, speaks, walks. Needless to say, the Words are endless on this.

As I close this short time with you today, I assure you, I will speak on this subject another time, but it is just to awaken the mentalities of those who will read the Words, to more fully understand that nothing is hidden from The Divine, and that you live in a time wherein there is so much occurring that is demeaning to the Souls Who are the innocent victims of those in whom They were placed, at the moment of the individual's conception."
