

SAINT JOSEPH, THE HOLY SPIRIT

“Man reviews Saints. He oftentimes wonders about a particular one. We smile Here in the Heavens and We offer advice: go to God, go to Our Lady, go to Saint Joseph, and All of Us. Our duties for you are to give you aid to come Here. Our advice is to walk in truth and obey what God Wills.

Make every single act you do be one of truth. Do it in a way that, if you had to face it again, you would not be ashamed to repeat each word, to repeat each step again. This is the way to live, this is the aim to keep, this is the goal to reach.

As you stroll through life, do it with peace, be in delight. Do not let weakness rob you of strength and do not let yourself get in the habit of calling your mistakes ‘little weaknesses’. Reach for perfection but reach it with integrity and dignity, truth and love.

From this moment on, look at yourself as We do from Above. Take your faults, begin to correct them. Take your virtues and improve on them. Take your life in the physical form and give it a beauty of one alone. Be sure that The Father is evident in you. Be sure that your way is His Will for you.

Be sure that the Commandments are evident in your home, to remind each of you Where you must go. Each home should have them on a wall, in print, so each one can see how they could fall; easy to do, make it a project for you. I smile when I say this, for as you do, you will renew your Faith in a way beautiful for you.

Man has forgotten God’s Laws in this way, the Rules of Life that were set down one day. It covers all phases of earthly ways.

Remember, My children, the Commandments are God's Love. Man says, 'Show me how to become a Saint.' Hand him the Commandments, for his sake. They should be evident in all places and to all kinds of men, to remind them to not sin.

I bless you, My children, from Heaven Where I am, for I am Saint Joseph, a Friend of all men. I beseech you to be alerted to a Divine Plan. Be wise and accept the way of the pen."
