

SAINT JOAN OF ARC

I am Saint Joan of Arc. When My Name is mentioned, the first thought is that I went to battle and wore the costume of a warrior.

AsK yourself: Are you not faced with formal moral conditions each day of your life? What is your armor? Does it show to others what you stand for, how you will react to a misconception of your moral values, your moral standards, your moral integrity?

Have you ever asked yourself, 'What type of armor will reveal my moral character to all whom I meet and am associated with in my daily way of life?' Granted, it is not natural to walk speaking openly in a prayerful way, so this portion of how you feel, how you think, never shows. What does your countenance show? What do others see in your walk, your speech, your clothing, your attitude?

So many men, women and children either ignore what an impact they have on others or they don't care, but every man, woman and child should be aware that their very presence can be conducive to the moral values, moral standards, moral conduct of everyone they come in contact with.

I am saying these things because at this time in which you live, there is so much carelessness regarding how one individual reflects openly how they are inwardly, morally, psychologically, or, immoral in some formal way.

There have been so many Blessings through so many of the Saints Who have spoken through this Gift of Communication that The Father has allowed Important Subjects to be thought about, to draw attention to an individual's behavior, and how an individual can affect the lives of everyone they meet, everyone they live with, and everyone they work with.

There is so much loose conduct in all ages, so much casual reflection of how one feels about important situations, about his or her moral code of ethics; also, purity on all moral issues that obviously affect any association, any conversation with one or more people.

When some hear of this Miracle Of The Beloved Saint Joseph, their thoughts rarely go to the practicality of the Teachings in which so many Saints partake. We hear some say, 'Why would so many Saints speak when It is called The Miracle Of Saint Joseph?'

Logic says, as The Holy Spirit, He is The Reflection of The Creator, and that all people do not have the same personality, nature, or desires to become a Saint. That is why it is so important for so many Saints to speak, because of different backgrounds, and Their different approach to Important Subjects, giving all types of personalities, degrees of intelligence, and degrees of belief in a Creator and the Purpose for which human life was created.

To be born a human being is a Blessing. It is not a Blessing in disguise, but is like an open book because of an individual's intellect and a sense of knowing what is pure, what is impure, and many, many other characteristics that give human life a dignity unto itself, above all other living things or matter.

Through this Gift of The Miracle Of Saint Joseph, mankind has been blessed abundantly. Today as I speak, it is to encourage all who read the Words to be example of what they know to be the way to become a Saint."
