SAINT JOHN OF THE CROSS

“I am Saint John of The Cross. There are so many Lessons on how to become a Saint. I smile at this statement, because rarely does any man, woman or child, at a particular time during one day, remind himself or herself that life was created for a Special Goal, and that was to one day return to The Father, the Soul.

The Father has given to the world a Beautiful Miracle of Love, of Hope, of Instruction, constantly encouraging individuals to be aware of the importance of human life, and how special it is in the creation of all living matter or things, because human life is the only creation that has been appointed to one day have the privilege to return to from Where it came, to return to from Where it was Designed, and that is to return the Soul to The Creator Who Designed the Soul, and hands the Soul to every human creation, because It is a Portion of Him that He wants returned to Him, to be with Him Forever.

For some so-called ‘learned’ men and women this statement might be difficult to understand, to relate to, or to use in their own human plan, but there is much evidence of Divine Plan in All Things, and the creation of human life, having been given so many abilities, an intellect, and the Cherished Gift of being able to choose right over wrong, good over evil, is oftentimes a Blessing beyond what an individual sees it to be, understands it to be.

The gift of human life is not a blessing in disguise, but a Blessing that each human being can relate to, because as a human being has the senses it has, the intellect it has, and all the other natural senses, proves to each living human being how Generous The Creator Was, And Is, and that with all that has been given to human life, chose human life to be different than all other living matter or thing.

So many of Us Here in the Heavens could speak endlessly. It would be impossible for men or women to put into script All We want them to know, All We desire them to follow, All We plead with The Father to allow Us to express, so that it will draw attention that nothing else can, to each one who reads Our Words to make it a point of saying to The Creator, 'Please allow me to return to You, and never be without You.'

In the human way, human senses, it is difficult to believe, to understand fully that there is a place called Heaven, that All of Us Saints, through this Gift of The Father's Love, this Miracle of Instruction, are so happy to be able to describe the importance of human life, and that We, in Our Love for them, for you, for human life, want you to return to The Father as We have.

So many Blessings pass through one voice, so much Love is allowed to be shown, and addressed as communication, to Instruct, to Instill. Many of Us are present at all times, and it is Our Love for The Father, and Our Love for human life, that We urge you to use each day to please The Father, and allow your Soul to become a Saint. So be it."
